The Regulations set out a number of restrictions on the use of proxies, including an ability for the body corporate to further restrict their use including prohibition.

The appointment of a proxy is effective only if the voter or the holder of the proxy gives, by hand, by post or by facsimile, a properly completed proxy form to the secretary before the start of the meeting where the proxy is to be exercised or if the body corporate has fixed an earlier time by which proxies must be given, the earlier time.
